ETHICAL & LEGAL RESPONSIBILITY

State v. Florida, Fl Dist Ct App 4th District (2003)

It is essential that lawyers educate themselves as to the availability, requirements, and appropriateness of drug court programs... It is equally important for the institutions that educate future lawyers, as well as those that educate the other disciplines that play vital roles in the drug court process to incorporate drug courts into their curricula.

For lawyers to do otherwise is for them to become legal dinosaurs. To ignore the need to learn about the drug court process is to ignore the evolution of the justice system (emphasis added). The sooner the Bar educates itself, the sooner the issue raised in this case will become extinct.
